ALMA MATER

Beyond the city's noise and clamor,
Serene beneath the heaven's gold,
Clear in the radiant morning sunlight,
Our Alma Mater we behold.
To us, its loyal sons and daughters,
A glorious task it now shall be
To write in blazing crimson letters,
Monroe's fair history.

DR. HEIN'S MESSAGE

Graduation Time

June 1943

Dear Friends,

You are the Jefferson Bi-centennial Class, and therefore I cannot give you a more appropriate message than one based on the immortal words written by Jefferson into the Declaration of Independence.

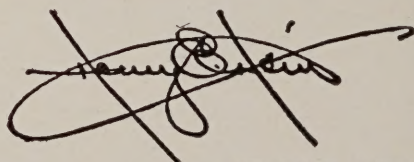

When Jefferson wrote that "All men are endowed by their Creator with the inalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," he stated for us the fundamental principle on which the American Way of Life is based. We are engaged in a war to preserve that way of life, and our immediate concern is to win that war. But, we must also think beyond the war, particularly so you young people who have a tremendous stake in the years of peace. What will it profit you if in winning the war you lose the American Way of Life for which you are fighting?

Note well Jefferson's words, words that all America has made its own. Note that ALL MEN are endowed with the inalienable rights—not states, or classes, or parties, be they Communistic, Nazi, Fascistic or Japanese—but ALL MEN. Our government has been based for 150 years on the principle of always going back to the people, to the ALL MEN, for a check-up on state policies, and at the same time permitting the people, the ALL MEN, to express that check-up freely, not handicapped by ignorance, force or bribes of "circus and bread."

Your great task in the years to come will be to make certain that we do not delete in practice Jefferson's famous words; that we do not ape the Communistic, Nazi, Fascistic or Japanese theory of the supremacy of the state or party or class over the individual man. Yours is the task of preparing yourselves physically, mentally and spiritually to fight for the American Way of Life, be it on the battlefield of war or in the public forum of peace.

That God may grant you many years of happy usefulness to yourselves and to your fellow man, is the sincere wish and prayer of

Your Principal,

EDITORIAL

This is goodbye. We stand here on the threshold of a new life—a far different life. We are leaving behind so much; more than can be replaced very quickly. We are leaving behind the warm, happy hours, minutes, fleeting seconds of our youth. We are leaving behind so many wonderful memories. So many grand times are now only left to be seen in the mirror of reflection. And eventually even that mirror will become tarnished, too. We must recall again and again those gay, golden moments; recall them and be happy that we were fortunate in having such a fine Alma Mater and equally superlative faculty to help make our sojourn here the most pleasant of experiences. The only heartache is leaving it all. But as all good things do end, so does this.

It is only human for us to think back to our cozy, pleasant atmosphere in Monroe, and then shudder and draw back when we think of the bitter reality that awaits us. Our futures are so unpredictable, so uncertain. The world is seething with the heated flames of battles, and we are the dry timber.

But as American youth is fickle, it is also pugnacious and arrogant. Nothing can ever dim its eager zest for the "right things" in this world. If we have to pray for those things, we will; if we have to fight for them, we will do that also. We will never be satisfied with embroidered misery or camouflaged tyranny. If our enemies don't know the stuff of American youth, they are in for a rough lesson. Experience is a hard teacher.

Today, we, the hope for tomorrow, look forward to the future. It looks bleak and dismal. But we know who blackened it, we know who is to blame. That only intensifies our burning desire to liquidate the filthy evil that contaminates every moral virtue in the world today. We are determined to finish our job. We will finish it triumphantly with the blood and thunder of our might.

The road ahead is hard, and our task is tremendous, but we shall never cease sweating, working or fighting. We shall never stop until every vestige of deceit and barbarism is blasted from the face of this earth. Forty-eight stars will stir us on, 130 millions will pray for us, and God will help us see it through.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

It seems like yesterday, but it was really four years ago that we entered Monroe. Most of us can still vividly recall that first day that we spent at Monroe. All of us, no doubt, remember the "smart-aleck" upperclassmen, who told us that the locker-room was on the top floor and that the lunchroom was in the basement. We did not soon forget the bullying seniors who offered to sell us elevator passes and gym spots, because we have just pulled the same stunts ourselves. But, now the four years are over; all the good times and fun we had, are behind us; now it is time to look to the future.

In the past, Monroe students have entered many and varied fields of endeavor. Some of them have become doctors, lawyers and engineers, and others may have become salesmen, mechanics, or businessmen; but, no matter what occupation they chose, they have always given a good account of themselves. Ours is a time of great national emergency. This country needs alert, intelligent, young leaders. We, the graduates of Monroe, are to furnish these leaders. It is up to us and the graduates of all the other schools in the country to lead this country to Victory. There is a great responsibility being placed upon us, but I know that we will do nothing to show that this trust has been misplaced. If we can show the same determination and will to succeed as our predecessors, Victory must surely be ours.

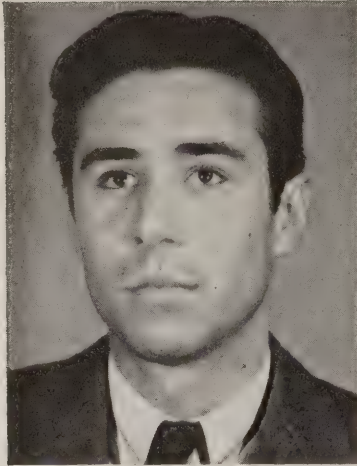

The time has now come for us to leave. We have had lots of fun and many pleasant experiences in Monroe. The crowded basketball and football games, the commando training in P.T., the various clubs and the assemblies, cannot soon be forgotten by us; but, now it is time for us to pack up all our memories of the four years and say goodbye.

And now, I would like to extend to you all, from myself and from my fellow class officers, best wishes and lots of luck in all that you may undertake in the future.

Your classmate and President,

Stanley Granowetter

SPORTS

SENIOR

With the loud cheers of encouragement of the Monroe fans, and the silent, watchful approval of their draft boards, the athletes of the class of June '43 carried their respective squads through successful campaigns on all major fronts. The third war term saw many Seniors enter the Armed Services and war production, causing an inevitable depreciation in Crimson sports.

Our boys dominated the football team this year, placing six men on the first string eleven. The gridgers started slowly, tying Roosevelt and dropping a game to the Bronx champs, Evander. In the Commerce contest, Jerry Eisenman, halfback, gave the crowd a thrill and put two hairs back on Coach Wiedman's worried head by scoring on a sensational thirty-yard broken field run. The Commerce crew never overcame that lead.

With the exception of the game with Seward (a team with eleven men who looked like well treated sons of a black market meat dealer) that ended in a tie due to the unforgettable goal line stand staged by linemen Nazareth Karoglanian, Larry Moses, Hymie Kaplan, Harry Newman and Al Baffuto, the Eagles were victorious for the remainder of the season. The most sensational triumph was a 40-6 rout of De Witt Clinton. The big Red and Black failed to see De Wit in the affair.

Other members of the Senior class to win their letters for gridiron activity were Jake Bronin, Sid Glazer, Stan Granowetter, Emil Padyck and Lenny Steinfeld.

The Crimson booters fared even better than the football team. Under Coach Joe Herschel they carried on the tradition of winning a championship a year. Goalie Artie Schectel, playing soccer for his first season, pulled the remarkable feat of allowing only two goals all season. For his part in winning the city title, the chubby defenseman was chosen for the all-scholastic team. The only other Seniors on the championship outfit, Rocco Lopardo and Sammy Elgort, also received that honor.

Conceding the fact that other schools must win championships too, the track squad did not follow the pattern set by "Pop" Herschel's boys.

SPORTSHOTS

It seems that the cinder men were so ardent in their desire to give other schools a break, that they didn't even approach winning the crown. It was even rumored that Coach Goldsmith would petition the "Monroe Mirror" to print the league standing upside down, on account of school pride. Bernie Staller and Al Baffuto, the two representatives of our class on the squad, were not enough of what the doctor ordered to transform the tracksters into a winning club. The coach needed many more good runners to enable Monroe to get near enough to the opposition to at least see the dust kicked up by the winners. Maybe next year, Coach.

The tank team lost the Bronx title to Clinton this year in a close league race. Bob Gieser, while he failed to equal his 1941-2 point total, proved to be one of the more valuable members of Matty Chamber's mermen.

The loss of Alvin Most, ace of the '41-2 top-notch basketball team left Coach Dickstein without a capable center. The fact that the Eagles reached the city championship semi-finals at Madison Square Garden proves that B-B Brenner wasn't a dud at the position, although B-B, who is his own press agent, modestly admits that four other players were on the team.

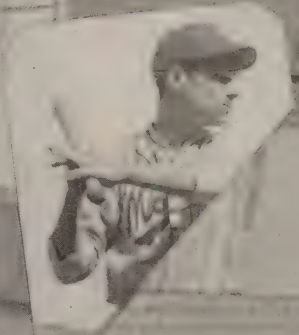

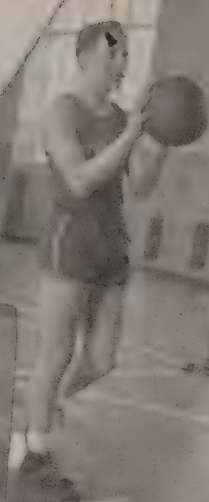

Another court outfit, the beloved Senior five, managed to exist in spite of wartime difficulties. The team which did no less than could be expected of an organization which boasted all June '43 men, had as its motto, "Bring your own equipment—and an extra pair of sneakers. They're rationed for the coach, too!" The boys, namely Seymour Nesselson, Nick Camerino, Herbert Jahn, Leon Rozakis and Manny Hershkowitz, were under the guidance of that giant with the little frame, Mr. Max "Sunbeam" Taub.

In the Spring, along with the mothballs, came the baseballs, and Coach Julie Zifferblatt put a powerful nine on the diamond. The slugging for the Eagles was provided by Matt Ciany, Al Baffuto and Dave Aldoraty, infielders. Hymie Kaplan flipped the "spheres of influence" for the squad.

These are the boys who after knocking around the pigskin, horsehide, etc. for four years, have at long last received the cherished sheepskin in June, 1943. The school owes a vote of thanks to them for brightening the dark hours between homework assignments.

HARRY BENDER

GIRLS'

Last week, while I was playing in the inter-class volleyball game, I noticed an interested spectator standing near the court.

"My!" she exclaimed, after I was introduced to her, "the sports activities in this school certainly have changed since my days as sports editor here in the year 193—. The entire school body seems to be bent upon being all-out for victory in the world of sports today!"

That put me in a pensive mood and I started reflecting.

Since our older brothers have left for the different branches of the services, and our sisters have assumed their responsibilities, they look to us for the Future, and we have had to increase our interest, not only in scholastic studies, but in sports activities as well.

As an example of our advancement, I could have pointed out to the former editor our latest additions to the sports of Monroe.

Girls are always the main attraction at any big show, and our Girl Cheerleaders are certainly no exception. After dusting off the seats of every high office in this school, Serena Ginsberg has finally proven herself able, and has been Captain of this luscious group of glamour girls since their start. Good luck to them on their first anniversary!

Another new group that is our pride and joy is the newly formed swimming team, where one can meet our potential female Johnny Weismullers. We take off our hats to Kay Wernert, who is the outstanding star of the 1943 group. It's a far cry from the time that our bathing beauties were whistled at by the opposite sex for merely appearing in a bathing suit; Captain Manus has proven that the team possesses a bit of brawn besides beauty.

Household duties have also lent a helping hand in our sports. After learning to wield a broom skillfully in the home, our Seniors find it just as simple to swing ping-pong or tennis rackets.

SPORTS

They say it's not lady-like to sport gym bloomers, but an exception to this rule is the colorful red gym suits of our Leaders. Nothing is impossible for this group of wonder-workers. They can knot their hands behind their backs, tie their legs around their necks, and then walk on their toenails, without batting an eyelash! The originator of Superman must have seen Dot Berger of this group in action, before introducing his character!

Manager Joe McCarthy of the Yanks lost some of his finest baseball players to the draft. (Someone must have left a window open in the dug-out.) His worries would be over if he were to step around to the Monroe baseball field and see Ada Barreiro at the bat. She swings a mean bat but means business.

"Keep 'em Flying" seems to be the password of our basketball team, as the girls keep throwing each other from basket to basket.—We lose more girls that way!!

Jingle-Jingle-Jingle—that's the signal for our air raid drills, and how can we Seniors forget the many occasions when we were caught un-awares in the gym at such times. We were given sixty whole seconds to wriggle into our dresses, usually putting two arms through the same sleeve, have our up-sweep hairbobs down-swept, and then dash madly to our stations, carrying our shoes in our hands. We trip over our shoe-laces into our next class only to be ordered out of the room for a late pass. "C'est la guerre, c'est la guerre!"

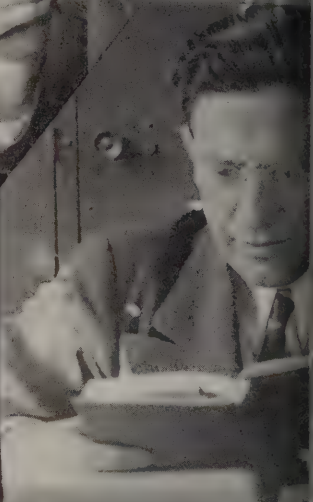

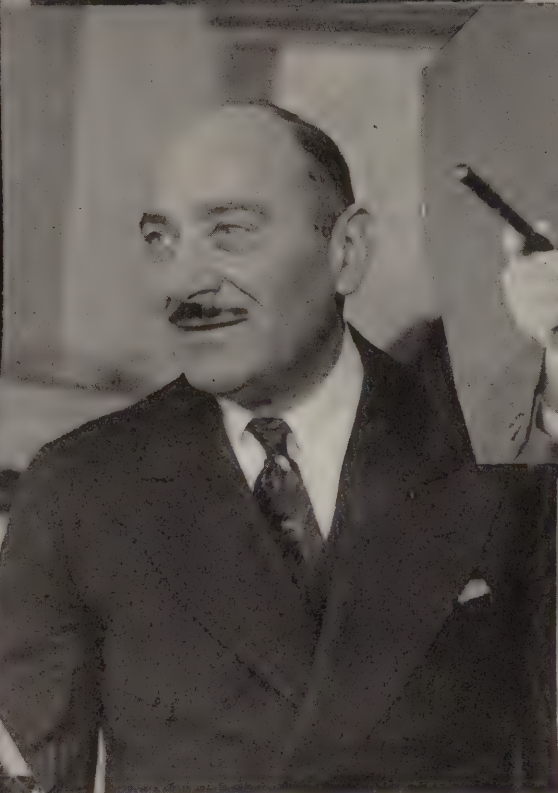

Oh, yes, how can we forget all those dental and medical notes we were asked to bring in signed by our parents, doctors, and dentists (with, of course, several forgeries) for our health advisers.

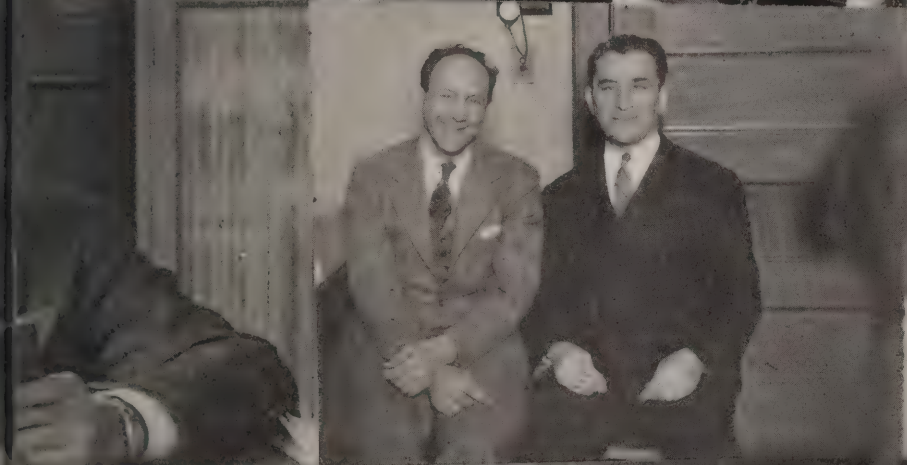

All these activities would not be half as successful as they are, were it not for the G.A.A., President Bonsignore, and Miss F. Schneiker.

Yes, our sports activities certainly have changed from the times of that former sports editor, but I am happy to be reporting at a period when sports are so essential to good, wholesome living.

We Seniors are the richer for having been associated with the clubs, and the poorer for leaving them.

FIGHT FOR VICTORY

The class of June '43 began its career in James Monroe High School in September 1939. On September 3, 1939, Prime Minister Chamberlain asked the House of Commons for a declaration of war against Germany.

In Monroe the war and the world were still distant to most of the student body. Some students discussed the unsettled world, and in English and history classes heated arguments were the order of the day, but still it was quite obvious that we thought the world was quite distant from our "ivory tower." Pearl Harbor destroyed the foundation of our tower, and the nearness of the struggle to practically all of us is clearing away the remaining rubble.

Some names have become immortalized since September 1939, London, Coventry, Bataan, Dniepropetrovsk, Corregidor, Kasserine Pass, Toulon, Leningrad, Lidice, Stalingrad. We have determined to ourselves that we, although we are not at the scene of the actual combat, cannot ignore the deeds of our comrades, that we shall mobilize ourselves as completely as possible to fight our enemies.

Of course it's not heroic work fighting on the home front. It is not always evident that work on isobars or parallel bars will win the war. But the work is necessary and it is being done.

One of the main centers of war activities at Monroe is the English office which is doubling as the Monroe Victory Congress General Headquarters. There, the tireless Miss Geraldine Saltzberg, Joan Raimondi, President, and Melvin Baylinson, Vice-President, direct the destinies of the MVC. Pride and joy of the Victory beehive is the $2,000 Ambulance which was purchased by contributions from Monroe students. It certainly was worth the frozen toes to stand on the still, sleety sidewalk and watch our olive drab life-saver crunch down Boynton Avenue early in the term.

Another activity is the Victory Scrapbook Drive. That is, students gather the funnies, cartoons, jokes, rib ticklers and mirth multipliers and paste them into scrapbooks which are then sent to the servicemen. Similar treatment is given to crossword puzzles.

A recent setup whereby Monroe Alumni now in the armed forces receive letters from their Alma Mater's present pupils has been arranged. The MVC also worked out a system to allow a section to "adopt" a soldier and send him gift packages.

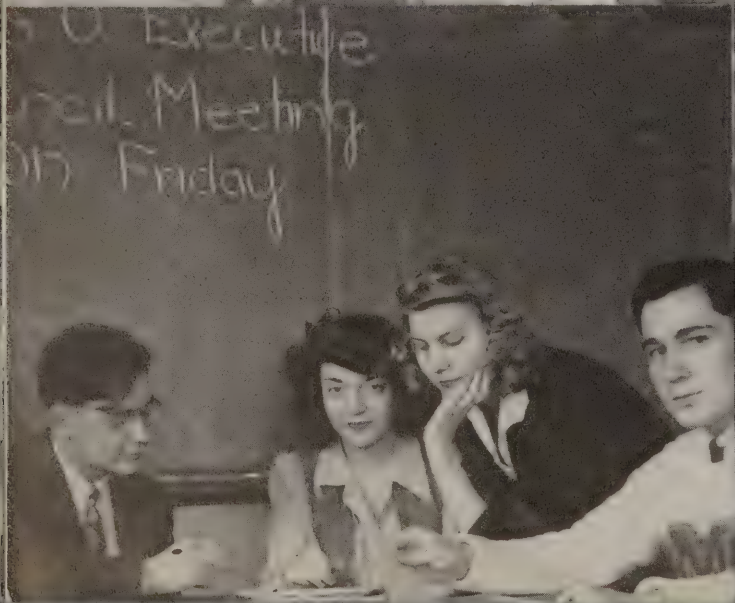

All salvage operations are under the supervision of Mr. Leavitt, dean of boys. The salvage command has collected items varying from 3,000 metal clothes hangers to 200 pounds of old silk and nylon stockings. During the "Records for Service Men" drive, approximately 1500 phonograph records were collected. Shostakovitch and Bing Crosby transcriptions alike went toward the effort for Victory. In excess of 25 tons of waste paper has been collected. This is about the weight of 13 block buster bombs. Also $100 was contributed to the Ambulance and $100 was put into War Bonds out of the proceeds of the sale of our valuable "junk." Our salvage wardens have won a commendation from the Salvage Section of the War Production Board.

No survey of the Victory Congress is complete without mention of Sgt. Robert M. Phillips, famous in Monroe as an English teacher, now in the Signal Corps. Sgt. Phillips addressed the first MVC meeting and has since written letters of encouragement and advice to us. When the war is won, we all sincerely hope that more classes will study English under a great guy. Preceding him into the armed forces was Mr. (now Major) Timmerman. These two members of the Monroe Faculty in the armed forces were followed by Mr. Grehan, Mr. Feierstein, Mr. Gold, Mr. Rosenblatt and Mr. (the Boss) Englander, now Sergeant Englander. Former adviser to Stagecraft, Mr. Englander, enlisted as a private in the N.Y. State Guard and has been responsible for the joining up of a considerable detachment of Monroe boys.

To all male students nothing more need be said about what the Health Education department is doing toward the war effort. Intensive activity on the mats, horizontal and parallel bars, scaling walls, ladders, horses, bucks, vaulting horses, ropes, and different sized "elephants" all conspire to torture the uninitiated. Nevertheless, after a while it is possible to take all that Mr. Cohen and company can dish out. Significant however, is the fact that the PT department is also giving a course in First Aid.

These are not all of the war activities of our school, war courses in Mathematics, Radio Code, Mechanical Drawing, Meteorology, Topography, Physics, Electricity, Home Nursing, Nutrition, and so forth are offered and have been made compulsory.

We are mobilized for war. We are continuing the process of mobilization. We are doing this to make Monroe all out for Victory . . . —

THE WITCHES' PROPHECY

A lone figure trudged up the hill. His shoulders were stooped and his eyes had a weary look about them but on his head was perched proudly the symbol of his authority in the world.—Yes, his senior cap. On he staggered—ever onward till he reached the summit. He pulled out a plaid handkerchief and mopped his brow. Then he scanned the horizon searching, searching, searching——. Yes, there it was, a thin column of smoke. He stumbled toward it.

Peering from behind a tree he saw seated around a fast-dying fire three old women. Gathering courage our hero stepped from his hiding place and in a cracked voice demanded, "Tell me, you must tell me, I have to know."

FIRST WITCH: Speak.

SECOND WITCH: Demand.

THIRD WITCH: We'll answer.

STUDENT: You can help me. You helped Macbeth I know. I just read it—well, part of it. Tell me—did I pass my English Regents?

FIRST WITCH: Any friend of Macbeth is a friend of ours.

The three hags hobble around the fire chanting:

Bubble, bubble boil and trouble

Fire burn and cauldron bubble

Suddenly there is a blinding flash. The witches are thrown backwards.

A voice from the cauldron thunders:—

All hail class of June '43

Thirteen years hence I foresee

YOU WILL BE PEACEFUL, PLEASURE BENT,
AND GRANOWETTER WILL BE THE COUNTRY'S PRESIDENT.

THE SUN WILL SHINE FOREVER FREE,
WHILE BELF WILL HEAD THE G.O.P.

IN EUROPE TROUBLE NO LONGER BREWS
ELAINE MARGULIS WILL GO ON COUNTING "DUES."

FREEDOM WILL BE IN EACH ONE'S REACHES
PORTENOY WILL GO ON MAKING SPEECHES.

BOUNTY WILL SURGE FROM EVERY HILL,
 ARLENE WILL BE EATING STILL.
 NO LONGER WILL WE MEATLESS FRET,
 BERNIE KATZ WILL SING AT THE "MET."
 AT AN END SHALL BE OUR NIGHTLY DIM-MING,
 KAY WERNET WILL GO ON SWIMMING.
 CANS ADORN OUR FUTURE PANTRY,
 SERENA WILL WIN A NEW DEGREE.
 ALL WILL BE HAPPY. SOUND THE CHIMES.
 SAM KIRSHNER WILL HEAD THE N. Y. TIMES.
 LOVERS WILL GO ON AS BEFORE,
 BUT KRAVET WILL BE HEARD ABOVE THE ROAR.
 THE TIME IS SHORT. THE CAULDRON
 BECKONS.
 BEFORE I GO JUST TWO MORE SECONDS.
 SENIORS MAY GO AND SENIORS MAY STAY—
 BUT MONROE WILL ALWAYS BE THIS WAY.

The earth trembled and the sky shook. In a puff of smoke the witches and cauldron vanished. Our hero was startled by a sudden tap on the shoulder and a voice shouting in his ears, "Young man, is this lesson boring you?"

SENIOR

S is for the spending of our savings.
 E enthusiasm just galore.
 N that nervous grinding in my stomach
 I illusions to which we all soar.
 O is for the ordeal of the Regents
 R the rapture of my hats and pins.
 Put them all together, they spell

SENIOR

The term you pay for long forgotten sins.

FROM SENIOR

"By order of the War Department, you are hereby informed . . ."
Familiar words, these. Many Monroviaans have already ripped open long, white envelopes with shaking, anxious fingers to find a message just such as this—and, in a short time, many more of us will probably go through a similar experience. We want everyone to know how we feel about being on the verge of entering the armed forces.

At first the thought of wearing a uniform, carrying a gun, and using it on the enemy seemed heroic and glorious to us. We thought only of getting out there, mowing down the Japs and Nazis, and then returning home to be called heroes. But we realize now that it is a much more serious proposition. It was all very easy to talk of being a casualty, and other such things when we weren't in danger of actually being called to fight, but how do we really feel about it now? Frankly, we're scared—every last one of us. Oh, there are those who put on a brave front, trying to seem indifferent, but down deep in their hearts they, too, are scared.

It isn't wrong to feel this way—it isn't wrong because every soldier, sailor and marine has the same feeling when he gets his first taste of the real thing. After a while he gets used to it, but there always remains that small trace of fear he experiences in his first battle.

How shall we feel, that first time? Our hearts will race, skip a beat now and then, and our stomachs will turn inside of us no matter where we are—five miles high, in the cold steel belly of a bomber, marching on the hot blistering sands of the Sahara, slashing our way through steaming jungles, or at the bottom of the sea, lying in the black silence of a hunted submarine, everything dripping with a cold sweat.

Yes, our stomachs will turn, but we'll know that we're a part of it all—we'll realize that our being out there will help us triumph over the evils which have brought misery and suffering to the world. We'll realize it just as other peoples have—the courageous English, the humble but hard-fighting Chinese, the enduring and confident Russians, the proud and stouthearted Dutch, that people of martyrdom, the French, and all the other unsung heroes, living and dead. We'll realize it as they have—not only because we want to make the world safe for democracy, and not only because we want to disarm Germany and Japan—but because we, the citizens of tomorrow, want to create a new Earth. We want to make the world a place where we and our children can live in perfect contentedness—not a paradise, so to speak, for that is next to impossible—but a place where there will be no need to send boys out to fight each other every twenty-five years or so, just because some selfish fanatics seek to bring the rest of the world under their heels.

We'll be homesick "over there," but not just for our families and friends. It may not seem probable now, but for many of us it will be. We're going to be homesick for Monroe—the teachers, the mobs in between periods, the halls, and all our undergraduate friends whom we pitied when we became seniors, because they had to remain behind. Many of us will have started new lives in colleges, and we will be itching to get back.

With the fact in mind that the Axis thugs are trying to see that we are deprived of these new and exciting experiences—that we never return home to live once again in peace, we will fight our hardest. Perhaps at last some morning will arrive when there is a sudden silence all over the world—when all United Nations soldiers are bathed in a golden beam of glory spreading outward from the sky. Perhaps on this morning each of us will be in a different corner of the world—breaking bread and drinking vodka with Gregor Petrovich, or having a "spot of tea" with Tommy Atkins, his soft brown hair bristling in the morning breeze, seeming defiant but victorious, or perhaps sharing a bowl of rice with Tao Lo-Ming, smiling, his almond-shaped eyes at last able to sparkle with relief.

THE WITCHES

Round and round the cauldron go,
Stuff and junk inside we throw.
Stir it well, then boil and bake
The Senior class we're going to make.

Seven hundred to include
Don't forget to add the food;
On long lines they had to wait
To get their milk before they ate.

Never did they have enough,
And what they had was awful stuff.
Their bellies cried for big thick steaks,
And all they got were last week's cakes.

Double, double, time in place
Right and left, and then 'bout face.

How they worked and how they slaved
As P.T. teachers ranted, raved:
"This war's success depends on you
To countermarch and stop on cue."

Commando tactics were begun,
Another cause to hate the Hun.
Charley horses, twists and sprains
They hurt and ache from brand new pains.

Add the liniment, add the gauze
They're breaking their necks, but it's for a good cause.

GREET YOU

Throw in jeep hats, Seniors' pins,
Don't even try to include their sins.

Baseball games and lots of noise
Made by cheering girls and boys
Basketball—just hear them shout!
These are things we can't leave out.

The Monroe Doctrine, Mirror too,
Their own French paper, "La Petite Revue"
Then to make their lives more hard
Don't leave out that small, white card.

Now this mixture let us stir
All great minds must now confer.

Guidance periods must be had
Miss Cashen says it's the latest fad.
Throw in dances, lots of fun
Our Senior class will soon we done.

But wait, our dish is not complete
A heave, and in goes Mrs. Sweet,
And it's well known there'll be no fame
For this Senior class, without Mr. Graham.

Now a one, two, three, and a three, two, one
Our four years' labor is well nigh done
Our Senior class is cooked first rate
Good luck to them when they graduate.

A DISCOURSE ON SENIORITIS

At a recent Medical Convention the famous Russian psychiatrist, Dr. Itrimsky Butsnogarinsky, presented a three hour dissertation on the "Physiological Effects of Senioritis." The highlight of Dr. Itrimsky Butsnogarinsky's speech was his discovery of the cause of this terrible disease. Already thousands of teachers have flocked to Itrimsky's office to discuss their various problems.

You are all probably wondering what is the cause of Senioritis, and so are the teachers who could not understand his Russian. We shall therefore endeavor to explain Itrimsky's complicated theory as clearly as possible. There are many theories about Senioritis, but none have the same sound reasoning as Itrimsky's.

When a student enters his senior class there is still one endocrine gland that has not begun functioning. That gland is located halfway between the Remus and the Rasofras. On entering the senior class he is placed in direct contact with the Gremlins, who have a particular liking for Seniors.

These Gremlins enter the body and cluster around the Remus. In order to get relief the endocrine gland sends out the hormones Iknowitin and Dontdoitin. These hormones come in contact with the Gremlins and drive them all over the body, causing chaos and confusion. The Gremlins interrupt everything the body is doing, and the two hormones commence their work at once.

Iknowitin and Dontdoitin flow past the Remus and continue on to the Rumpus. There they cause the body to do many strange things, like wearing crazy hats, pulling crazy pranks, taking over classes, talking back to teachers, ceasing to do work and many other odd and foolish chores.

This condition is known as Senioritis and it lasts for the entire senior term. The only way to prevent Senioritis is to remove the Gremlins. How can this be done? It can't, for no jail can hold, no chemical can kill, no instrument can harm or injure the Gremlins. They are true Achilles, so from now on you can just blame it on the GREMLINS.

PLEASE FORGIVE US MR. LINCOLN

Four sore and hectic years ago, we students dragged forth unto this school, a New Freshman deceived in elementary school and dedicated to the proposition that all teachers are created meanies. Now we are engaged in a great senior term, testing whether this student or any other student so deceived and dedicated can receive his diploma. We are met in the great assembly hall of this school. We have come to dedicate a portion of this yearbook to those who gave their dues that this Senior Class might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we do this. But in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate, we can't even concentrate, we must not hollow our heads. The great mathematicians, living and dead, who have taught here, have confused us far beyond our poor power to add or subtract.

This school will little note nor long remember what we say here, but they can't possibly forget what we did here. It is for us, the seniors, rather to be here educated for the great task remaining before us, that from this day forth we take increased devotion to this school to which we give the last full measure of commotion; that we here highly resolve that our struggles shall not have been in vain; that this high school, under Dr. Hein, shall have a new batch of Freshmen, and that government of the Seniors, by the Seniors and for the Seniors, shall not perish from Monroe.

FOR JUNE 1948

Dear Graduate:

Five years from now, perhaps you will once again open this book while sitting in your home. Many memories will once again become vivid pictures of the days you spent in the corridors of Monroe. Perhaps, also, at that time, you will have graduated from college or will be permanently established in the business world. Whatever you may be doing at that time, you may be assured that James Monroe High School will still be interested in you. We are interested because one of our main principles at Monroe is finding out which procedures followed here at school aided or hindered you in whatever you are doing today. We want to make our teaching worthwhile and effective enough so that future graduates may be prepared to face a changing world. For this reason, we are anxious to hear from you—so won't you, some time shortly after June 1948, answer the questions and return them to the principal?

A. What are you doing now?

B. Is it the type of work for which you were preparing yourself while in our high school?

C. Tell us in detail how the work done by our school aided you in your present duties.

D. If our school was of no assistance to you in the work you are doing now, either in business or professional work, tell us honestly, and in detail, just in which respects you think we could improve our work as teachers, so that future graduates may benefit by your suggestions.

E. In what way do you feel we succeeded, or failed, in helping you to adapt yourself in your school relationships since you left our school?

F. In what ways did we succeed or fail in helping you to become a worthy citizen of the community in which you live or spend your time? In what civic movements have you cooperated or are you engaged now? What improvements would you suggest in the preparation given here?

G. Do you see or meet with any of your fellow graduates? What is their opinion of the work we have done as teachers?

H. Will you ask these fellow graduates to get in touch with the school and tell us something about themselves?

Your Teachers
